

What is Quantum Bloc, Infinity Bloc, Travel Bloc and Grand Bloc?

A Quantum Bloc is a tool and a technology that contains and provides a concentrated quantum energy space within the area between the golden plates. It can also be described as a quantum energy generator and/or a quantum space generator. It is the first device on the market that cannot be optimized by any other tools, devices, or additional quantum energy generators to enhance its effectiveness and power. The Hawkins value of the bloc is 571

Infinity Bloc works the same way as the Quantum Bloc in regards to the concept and what can be done with it – except it is faster and stronger. The Hawkins value of the bloc is 3800.

Travel Bloc is a mini - Infinity bloc, specifically designed for easy traveling, to use in your car, and also for other leisure activities like going to yoga, to a restaurant, etc. The Hawkins value of the bloc is 1000.

Grand Bloc has been specifically designed to charge larger objects, groceries, and even complete dishes with pure, dynamic, and powerful quantum energy, and it does so in a very powerful way. It calibrates higher than 2000 on the Hawkins scale!

Q1. What are the differences between all the blocs.

A. The primary parameters for a bloc include size, range, consciousness level, and buffer and harmony features. Please refer to video here .

Q2. How to copy frequency using a bloc from the Leelaq card/product?

A. Step 1 Place the source and target objects together

Step 2. Remove the source object after the recommend time*

Step 3. Seal the target by leaving it in the bloc *

*see charging times (as per the bloc) in Q1.

Q3. What do you mean by SEALED object?

A. A frequency cannot be incorporated into a sealed object unless it is positioned within a more potent block. For instance, if a card is sealed in a quantum block, you would require an Infinity block to introduce a frequency to the card.

Q4. What is the extent to which EMF can be synchronized or harmonized with the bloc?

A. Studies show EMF mitigation is most effect within the first 40% of the Bloc's energy field emanating from the centre. For example, within the 2km energy range of the Grand bloc, EMFs are harmonized within 800m.

Q5. What do you mean by over-charging object in the bloc?

A. Overcharging metals which can happen in an Infinity bloc/ Travel bloc/Grand bloc (not in the quantum bloc) when metal gets charged for more than 3-5 minutes cumulative (we always talk about 3 minutes to be on the safe side. Especially with a higher generation infinity bloc these times tend to slightly shrink):

What happens when a metal gets "overcharged"?

It could then - by putting the overcharged metal into a lower level bloc - upgrade a quantum bloc (or lower level bloc) - which in the case of a quantum bloc would lead to the fact that you couldn't use it anymore for some of its core functions like making quantum frequency medicine and/or neutralizing potentially harmful pharma products. They also then go into the mode of charging other objects. Not due to force, but due to quantum consciousness levels. That can become a bit difficult to handle and would overwhelm our ability to help people to "clean" it up. In many cases a frequency can then also be boosted too strongly which may not be the best for the wearer. More is sometimes good, but it shouldn't be "too much". Most people can't "see" when that would be too

Q6. Does magnet destroy the bloc if kept near the bloc?

A. No. It will disrupt the energy flow of the bloc if kept near it. You can charge the magnet in the bloc but we recommend keep it away from the bloc.

Q7. What should I keep in mind while keeping a photo in the bloc for healing purpose?

It's advisable to include only one person's photo in the bloc. We suggest using the most recent photo available, whether it's in colour or black and white. Please refer to the timing chart in Q1 for guidance. Additionally, ensure the photo is recognizable, showing the person's face; the entire body in the photo is not necessary.

Q8. Can all blocs can be upgraded?

A. No. Quantum Bloc cannot be upgraded. For other blocs,

Q9. Can we communicate with our blocs? Does it have consciousness? Awareness?

A. 100% you can communicate with it. But again not as we think of it in the "normal" human form or way to communicate.

You can for example use your intentions. Ie if you want to transform a behavior pattern, a physical imbalance, a trauma from the past, etc., then you can set the intention to do that within you (ideally not only thinking it, but also feeling and really envisioning it). Then ask the quantum field to support this intention. A great way is to write the intention on a piece of paper (while thinking, feeling and envisioning it) and to then place it inside the Bloc. Then the quantum power will help make it happen faster and easier - as long as it is an intention that is on your soul plan and within the universal plan (which is rather an "unfolding"). The key is to find these intentions in our heart, and not in our brain or ego. That line is sometimes difficult to see, but with practice it gets easier.

One example of that:

- If one writes the intention "I want to be a millionaire within 3 months"... it is most likely something that comes from the ego and also isn't something that's really in alignment. There can be exceptions of course to this. But generally speaking.

- If that someone were to write the following intention instead:

"I transform my relationship to money and the difficulties I so far had with money in my life, so that money can flow easily and positively in my life. I transform my desperate need to have more money into a state of inner abundance and prosperity, so that I can invite more financial freedom into my life."

This can be phrased better, but in a nutshell these are two different approaches. The second one is all about recognizing our own responsibility in this, about a way to heal whatever may be blocked within us regarding a certain topic, and it is also much less specific in regards to the outcome.

Another, different, example would be:

- I want to have a partner that loves me

- I allow myself to find a partner that loves me

Usually we block ourselves in various ways...also by not allowing us to be happy, healthy, etc etc etc So here the second intention is again the one to use.

Q10. I tested the infinity block and it doesn't appear to lower the emf in my house. I have two blocks. Why would that be the case?

A. The Infinity bloc doesn't block emf in any way. It never has and wasn't designed to do that at any point. Our clothing line literally blocks over 99.9% of emf. That you can easily measure with an emf meter.

However, the infinity bloc harmonizes any emf (3g, 4g, wifi, microwaves etc). That means it harmonizes detrimental or destructive wave form patterns, and it neutralizes any measurable detrimental or potentially harmful effects of emf on the body. As an example this has been shown and proven by multiple randomized, placebo-controlled single-blind and double-blind studies. As a side note, it would not be helpful at all if the Bloc were to block emf. Then you couldn't use them in any car, airplane or home since it would block all emfs. Then you couldn't use wifi, there couldn't be any wireless communication anymore etc.

So again, the Blocs harmonize EMFs. They neutralize EMFs potentially harmful and/or destructive effects. I hope that helps!
